

MOVING UP

Name: Renee Stevens Goin
New position: IT Director, South Data Inc., Mount Airy

Thoughts on your new position: The people, products and technology are what make South Data successful. We have relevant products that deliver value to our clients and these products are produced with automated systems created and managed by talented and innovative people.

Career advice: Great minds working together discover options that lead to the best decisions.

First job: Data Processing Manager, Stokes County Government

Goin

Most influential teacher: My father has a tremendous business mind and has influenced me to strive for success in everything I do.

Last book read: "The 'E' Myth Revisited," by Michael E. Gerber

Person you would most like to meet: Love getting to know new and interesting people.

Where was your last vacation: Lake Norman

What's on your iPod? Beach, Country (Zack Brown, Darius Rucker, Kenny Chesney), anything Lynyrd Skynyrd and Third Day

Ideal dinner party would include: Besides travel, my favorite hobby is cooking for a large group of family and friends. Love to grill out (bar-b-que pork chops and vegetables) or prepare a large Mexican meal (best taco chicken ever!)

Lesson you learned the hard way: Always pay attention to detail and make good decisions around the right level of detail to manage.

Best course taken in college: Corporate Rhetoric, Wake Forest University. The course focused on the power of communication internal and external to business.
